Dr. P. B. Johnson and sister, Miss M. S. Johnson of Baltimore. They entertained with a coaching party through the Baltimore estate on Monday. F. P. Rees, a prominent clubman of Pittsburgh, is spending some time at the Battery Park, and other Pittsburgh guests there are Mrs. John R. Ewing and son, John R. Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McKinley, also of Pittsburgh, will arrive early in January. Asheville is greatly pleased to learn that for distinguished bravery Capt. Schaeffer of the German army, whose wife was Miss Frances Carter of this city, has received the Iron Cross. Dr. Francis Clemenger of London, England, arrived during the week. Dr. Clemenger has been in England a year doing research work in the institution controlled by Sir Amos Wright.

Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt and Miss Cornelia Vanderbilt left early in the week for New York and will not return to Baltimore until early in January. Mrs. Vanderbilt had planned to give the usual presents to the tenants and their families, but each employee of the estate made request that these presents be omitted this year and the money used instead for the European war sufferers. This generosity pleased Mrs. Vanderbilt very much and the request was complied with and she added the sum to her own personal donation, sending it in the name of the Baltimore tenantry.

AIKEN, S. C.

AIKEN, S. C., Jan. 2.—Early visitors at the new hotel here and at Wilcox's and all the cottages have been enjoying the practice polo matches on the Whitefield during the past fortnight, while others have been attending the dove drives. James Mackie, the "pro" at the Palmto Golf Club, is arranging the usual series of tournaments for the members, many of whom are numbered among the pioneer golfers in America.

At the Highland Park Golf Club there will be weekly events and toward the end of the season a big tournament will be held under the direction of J. J. Keenan of the Newport Golf Club.

The Whitney estate, which rejoices in the name of Jay cottage and is on Easy street, will be opened about the first of February, when Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney and their guests arrive for the polo, shooting and hunting season.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin will open Hopelands next week and will probably have Mrs. William Goddard, Mrs. Iselin's mother, with them for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, who recently completed the "Rust" at White Sulphur Springs, arrived a week ago to spend two months in their cottage here.

The return after several years absence of Mr. and Mrs. George von L. Meyer, the former the 11th Secretary of the Navy, will be a big addition to the winter colony here, as will the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winthrop Rogers, who have taken Mrs. J. C. Mallory's house for the season.

PINEHURST, N. C.

PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 2.—The annual New Year's eve ball at the Carolina, the holiday golf tournament and the opening of the fox hunting season contributed an important part to a busy week of affairs here. The number of holiday visitors is the largest in the history of the resort, and looking for the immediate future indicate that Pinehurst, at least, has secured new interest in "made in United States" resorts.

The Carolina's New Year's eve party was a jolly affair. Walter J. Travis was prominent in a fast field of eighty contestants in the holiday tournament. The first hunt swung into operation with the fox hunt, and many of the fairer sex among those who enjoy the sport. James T. Twitty of Buffalo is again master of the hunt, with "Ned" as his former slave, the whip who never leaves the hole of the pack, he is smooth sailing in the open rough and tumble doubles in the swell.
